DATA DOCUMENTATION FOR 2001
GENERAL INTRODUCTION

Welcome to an explanation of the International Trade Administration, Office of Travel and Tourism Industries' (OTTI) Survey of International Air Travelers database that you have received in an electronic format. The documentation covered in this manual describes pertinent background information needed to use the OTTI database.

Materials in this documentation refer to the 2009 version of the OTTI "In-Flight" Survey used by CIC Research, Inc. starting in January 2009. Specific information includes the following sections:

- a copy of the questionnaire with variable names
- the database column layout with variable names and size
- ranges for questionnaire data by variable name
- codebook

In addition to the documentation included here on paper, much of the coding information is available in ASCII files.

Disclaimer for the Use of Data Tapes

The advantage of having a data tape is the ability to produce subgroup analysis. However, analysis of subgroups that contains fewer than 100 respondents is not recommended or endorsed by Tourism Industries. Use of subgroup information of fewer than 100 respondents should be used internally only and should not be released publicly as statistically reliable information.
